Shared recovery · uncertain payment or receipt

We could not confirm whether this operation was recorded. Resolve the original operation before trying again. Do not create another payment or receipt for the same event. Exact recovery controls depend on the API/client contract.

Loading never fabricates balances or report zeros. Validation keeps inputs. Cancel changes nothing. A confirmed occurrence offers its recorded expense instead of another confirmation. Empty report percentages are omitted when total spending is zero.

Shared base snapshot

Use the P01.07 ledger: A SEK 2,500, B SEK 500, Savings S SEK 1,000, Euro EUR 118, Dollar USD 100. October SEK income is 2,000, spending 500, net flow 1,500. The SEK 800 and unassigned EUR 20 upcoming payments have no realized effect.

Confirm an actual payment

The SEK 800 confirmation is a later preview after payment on 30 October. It changes A to SEK 1,700 and October spending to SEK 1,300 once. The occurrence leaves pending. Other payments and rule instances remain separate.

Credit only the receiving account

The independent SEK 4 receipt preview credits A to SEK 2,504 and raises income to SEK 2,004. Savings S stays SEK 1,000. If S receives the payment instead, S becomes SEK 1,004 and A stays SEK 2,500. Never apply both previews to the base implicitly.

Interest terms remain explicit

A 3% nominal annual rate effective 1 November is an unsaved example. Payout frequency is independent of that rate. Missing payout timing, day count, balance timing, capitalization or rounding prevents a meaningful estimate. Unknown/ effective rate bases are not silently treated as nominal.

Preserve historical rates

Adding an effective-dated rate retains earlier periods. Past receipts stay as actually recorded. Interest settings are optional; ordinary income must never be redirected or relabeled as savings interest.

Recurrence policies stay open

The schedule draft uses the 15th and explicitly selected UTC to avoid choosing a month-end rule. Weekly, monthly, quarterly and annual schedules are planned. Dates 29–31, leap years, generation, pause/skip/postpone effects and change scope remain Phase 07 specifications.

Reports drill into records

Currency selection offers SEK, EUR and USD separately. Category selection carries the period and currency into its contributing transactions. Transport is SEK 200 with no account assigned: 40% of total SEK 500 spending. Transfers/openings/voided records and forecasts are excluded from realized totals.

Return without losing context

Recurrence and Savings enter from Home links; Insights is a primary tab. Account activity is the same account used in Accounts. Details return to their source with filters retained. Review and cancel do not post money.

Low-fidelity proposal. No calculation engine or financial feature was implemented. P01.09–P01.10 still own visual identity, components and the broader interface-state system.
